

Add Music to Your Friendster Profile

OK, so you've just created your Friendster (FS) account, put some text and pictures about yourself, and grab some friends. Because you're a very fanatic rock fan, you want your friend really respect you when they "catch" up your profile, as they will somehow listening to your Bon Jovi fave song when seeing your profile.

How to do that ? Let's see it here the easy guide to do that.

Of course, the first step is you have to login to your FS account (Where's the profile page, dude? and you need to have audio enabled pc/notebook), and follow these steps :

Go to menu (on the top) My Profile->Edit Profile

Click Customize Tab. If you're unable to see the Customize Page, you may need to set Safe Profile options to Off (FS will ask you to do this by default)

On the Customize Page, scroll down until you see the Add Media section

Now, open <http://music.bithear.com> in your new tab/window browser and search the song you like (in this case, you're Bon Jovi fanatic fan, so you're gonna pick up "Never Say Goodbye" for your friends). The direct link for "Never Say Goodbye" is here.

On the Music BitHear page, you can see the code and instructions (Hell, if there's instructions there, why I should write this crap :)). Copy the code and paste it on the FS Customize Page as mentioned in step 3) You're done! Save your FS profile, and try to listen the song yourself when you're opening your own profile (scroll down a little bit, and near the bottom of your profile page, you'll see your Media Box). Narcisism is good :)

Now, you can send email or bulletin in FS to your 200 friends out there and you will say "Never Say Goodbye" to them !
